

Prophecy for Good Friday

H  Æ-c di-cit Dóminus: In tribu-la-ti-óne su-a mane consúrgent ad me:

 Vení-te, et revertámur ad Dóminum: qui-a ipse cœpit, et sanábit nos:

 percú-ti-et, et curábit nos. Vi-vi-ficábit nos post du-os di-es: in di-e térti-a susci-tábit nos, et vivémus in conspéctu e-jus. Sci-émus, sequemúrque, ut cognoscámus Dóminum: qua-si di-lúcu-lum præparátus est egréssus e-jus, et véni-et qua-si imber nobis temporáne-us, et seró-tinus terræ. Quid fáci-am ti-bi Ephra-ïm? Quid fáci-am ti-bi Juda? mi-se-ricórdi-a vestra qua-si nubes matu-tína: et qua-si ros mane pertránsi-ens. Propter hoc do-lávi in prophétis, occí-di e-os in verbis oris me-i: et judí-ci-a tu-a qua-si lux egredi-éntur.

Qui-a mi-se-ricórdi-am vó-lu-i, et non sacri-fí-ci-um, et sci-énti-am De-i, plus quam ho-locáusta.
